

September 17, 2015 Event / CLE

Topics

Employment

Related People

Related Practices & Industries

Labor, Employment & Benefits

ERISA, Life, Health & Disability

Litigation

The Interactive Process and the Interplay of the ADA, FMLA and Worker's Compensation

Equal Employment Opportunity Commission | Bellevue, Washington

Lane Powell Shareholder Katheryn Bradley will co-present “The Interactive Process and the Interplay of the ADA, FMLA and Worker’s Compensation” at the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission’s Seattle-area seminar at 1:15 p.m. on Thursday, September 17. Other topics at the seminar will include: recent court decisions and cases that affect the workplace, employers’ duties to accommodate employees’ religious practices, and reasonable accommodations involving disability-based conduct under the Americans with Disabilities Act and Washington Law Against Disability. The event will take place from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. at the Hilton Bellevue in Bellevue, Washington.