‘Stump the Lawyers’ — Answers to Your Stormwater Questions

Northwest Environmental Business Council | Tacoma, Washington

Lane Powell Shareholder Mike Nesteroff will serve as a panelist at the Northwest Environmental Business Council’s (NEBC) “Managing Stormwater in Washington” Conference for a discussion titled “‘Stump the Lawyers’ — Answers to Your Stormwater Questions.” The discussion will take place from 3:45-5 p.m. on Wednesday, March 11, and the panelists will answer questions regarding third-party lawsuits, downstream liability exposure and risk management strategies as they relate to stormwater issues. Other topics at the conference include but are not limited to: fundamentals of industrial stormwater management; an asset management approach to aging stormwater infrastructures; an update on stormwater regulations; and the design, permitting and complexities of contaminated construction sites. The event will take place from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Greater Tacoma Convention & Trade Center in Tacoma, Washington.
