

---

Topics

Admiralty and Maritime

---

Related People

April 23, 2014 News

Matson Inducted as Member of Maritime Law Journal Advisory Board

Awards & Honors

Lane Powell Shareholder Katie Matson has been inducted for an unlimited term as a member of the Board of Advisory Editors for the Tulane Maritime Law Journal. The board is comprised of admiralty practitioners, as well as judiciary, national and international admiralty scholars. George Washington University Professor Thomas J. Schoenbaum, the author of the authoritative treatise Admiralty and Maritime Law, and preeminent McGill University cargo scholar Professor William Tetley, also serve on the advisory board. The advisory editors serve along with the Tulane Law School faculty and faculty advisors, Professor Robert Force, author of the hornbook The Law of Seamen, and Professor Martin Davies, the current head of the Tulane Admiralty Institute. Matson is a graduate of Tulane Law School.