

February 22, 2018 News

Related Practices & Industries

Litigation

Lane Powell Named Benchmark Litigation's 2018 'Northwest Firm of the Year'

Awards & Honors

We're honored to be named the 2018 "Northwest Firm of the Year" by Benchmark Litigation. The recognition arises from the strength of the firm's case matters during 2017, including precedents set or verdicts with notable high dollar amounts at stake.

"This award reflects the hard work and dedication of our attorneys and staff in the litigation department, as well as our firm's commitment to excellent client service," said Barbara Duffy, Director of Lane Powell's Litigation Department. "We are pleased to receive this recognition from Benchmark Litigation."

Lane Powell's litigation practice has been consistently recommended in Benchmark Litigation since 2008. The firm has also been recognized every year as a "Firm of the Year" in Oregon and Washington since the award's inception in 2013. Recommendations are based on interviews with the nation's leading private practice lawyers and in-house counsel. Most recently, Puget Sound Business Journal also ranked Lane Powell at the top of their list of "Largest Litigation Law Firms in the Puget Sound Region."

Benchmark Litigation is a U.S.-based publication headquartered in the New York offices of Institutional Investor and Euromoney's Legal Media Group.

