

May 5, 2018 Event / CLE

Topics

Ethics

Related People

Related Practices & Industries

Business

Creating Successful Music Ecosystems: Ethical Approaches to Addressing Artists' Needs and Representation

University of Washington, KEXP and Washington Lawyers for the Arts | Seattle

Steve Winters will serve as a panelist discussing “Creating Successful Music Ecosystems: Ethical Approaches to Addressing Artists’ Needs and Representation” from 11:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 5 at The New Music Ecosystem Conference. University of Washington, KEXP and Washington Lawyers for the Arts are organizing the conference of musicians, lawyers, business leaders and government officials to discuss the challenges and work towards policies supporting vibrant local music ecosystems. The event will take place May 4-5 at KEXP’s Gathering Space and MoPOP in downtown Seattle.