

November 12, 2018 News

Related People

Related Practices & Industries

Antitrust, Competition, & Trade

Commercial Litigation

Investigations, Compliance & White Collar

Litigation

Adamson Joins Lane Powell on Commercial Litigation and Antitrust, Competition & Trade Teams

Firm Announcement

Joseph D. Adamson has joined Lane Powell as an Associate on the Commercial Litigation and Antitrust, Competition & Trade Teams.

Adamson counsels individuals and businesses in antitrust and complex commercial litigation matters. He has extensive experience with investigations and litigation concerning corporate integrity, including those of criminal fraud and price-fixing, including representing clients in investigations by the U.S. Department of Justice and various state attorneys general.

Adamson's experience includes civil direct-action and class-action litigation, internal investigations, and global cartel investigations involving numerous international jurisdictions. He also advises clients on the antitrust risks of particular transactions and business practices, including pricing practices, contracting practices, mergers and acquisitions, and joint ventures. His experience spans a wide range of industries including pharmaceuticals, auto parts manufacturing, publishing and broadcasting.

Following law school, Adamson worked for the Innocence Project seeking post-conviction relief and exoneration for clients with guilty pleas and verdicts. He continues to lead pro bono cases with the organization today.

Adamson received his J.D., cum laude, from the University of Michigan Law School and his A.B. in Economics, cum laude, from Washington University in St. Louis.