
Related People

Related Practices & Industries

Commercial Litigation

Construction

Litigation

June 17, 2019 News

Palachuk Joins Lane Powell Construction Team

Firm Announcement

Geoff F. Palachuk has joined Lane Powell as an Associate on the Construction Team.

Palachuk is an experienced litigator and construction dispute resolution strategist. He uses an array of creative problem-solving approaches to counsel owners, lenders, architects and general contractors through all phases of litigation, from risk evaluation to settlement strategy and trial.

Palachuk previously worked as an insurance attorney, where he represented Pacific Northwest utility and railroad companies. With this experience, he has built a methodical approach to risk spotting and helping clients eliminate and reduce exposure to liability.

A Pacific Northwest native, Palachuk is an avid volunteer in his community. He holds leadership positions in local bar associations and serves on the King County Board of Trustees.

Palachuk received his J.D. from Notre Dame Law School and his B.S., with honors, from the University of Oregon.