

Community Involvement

At Lane Powell, our people are deeply engaged in the work we do, and that passion flows out as an active involvement in the greater community.

With a history of more than 140 years in the Pacific Northwest, we have long been guided by a strong spirit of giving back. The result is a vigorous and consistent commitment to the health and progress of the people and places where we live and work.

Community involvement is an essential part of our mission and culture.

We actively support individual and firm-wide engagement. We seek out opportunities to get involved and promote a strong corporate and personal giving culture.

Through pro bono, board memberships, volunteering, sponsorships and donations, we work to advance important civic and legal initiatives, early childhood education, immigration rights, homelessness advocacy, eldercare, the arts and more. We have long, active partnerships with many effective organizations, supporting, among others, the American Heart Association, Downtown Seattle Association, Food Lifeline, Fred Hutch Cancer Research, Habitat for Humanity, Oregon Food Bank, Rebuilding Together and the United Way.

Lane Powell continually reexamines and reinvigorates our community involvement efforts, as we seek to create an ever-more thoughtful and strategic approach that amplifies our community impact and service.
